

LRP Insurance by Ever.Ag

Coverage that Works Year-Round Against Adverse Price Movements

Livestock Risk Protection insurance offered by Ever.Ag allows producers to manage profitability in volatile markets

HOW IT WORKS

Livestock Risk Protection (LRP) works like a put option giving downside protection with upside participation. This insurance product, provided under the Federal Crop Insurance system, offers year-round protection against adverse price movements. Coverage can be used for fed cattle, feeder cattle, and swine. Producers may select from a variety of coverage levels and insurance periods to match the time that the livestock would be marketed.

Livestock Risk Protection

Feeder Cattle

12,000 head per endorsement, and 25,000 head per crop year.

Fed Cattle

12,000 head per endorsement, and 25,000 head per crop year.

Swine

70,000 head per endorsement and 750,000 head per crop year.

“Ever.Ag has individuals that know agriculture because the agents also farm or ranch and use the products they sell.”

- Jamie Horsfall, J&J Horsfall Farms LLC

RESULTS

With LRP, ranchers and farmers gain a valuable advisor in the cattle and swine market. Your advisor will walk you through coverage that protects profits while leaving your top side open for participation. The LRP allows producers single-peril risk protection against price declines over the insurance period.

KEY BENEFITS

- Downside protection, upside participation
- Year-round coverage available
- Easy to set up and manage with our agents
- Cash settled and premium due after policy expiration
